Laser Hair Removal

Laser hair removal is the most effective method of permanently reducing unwanted hair, and is faster and less painful than other methods. Laser hair removal uses a highly concentrated light source that is absorbed by the pigment in hair follicles, producing heat which vaporizes the pigment, eliminating or significantly reducing hair growth. Dark, course hair on any area of the body is effectively treated. A total of four to six treatments six weeks apart are necessary to achieve optimal results.

Fraxel Laser

An exciting new addition to our range of medical-grade lasers is our Fraxel laser, the latest breakthrough to restore ageing and sun damaged skin. The Fraxel laser is the only device specially designed to resurface a fraction of the skin at a time without breaking its protective outer barrier. This approach allows for dramatic cosmetic improvement without the redness, downtime and discomfort of traditional laser resurfacing. The Fraxel laser is ideal for those with mild to moderate wrinkles around the eyes and lips, pigmented age spots, textural skin problems and is also the first laser to effectively treat acne scars.

Non-Surgical Skin Tightening

Titan™ is a safe, non-surgical process that uses an infrared light source to tone, lift and tighten the skin and reverse the signs of ageing. The Titan™ heats the dermis (the inner layer of the skin) causing collagen contraction and stimulating long-term collagen remodelling, providing a taut and youthful appearance. The Titan™ procedure can be used anywhere, including the abdomen, thighs and arms, as well as on the face and neck. The tightening effect can be noted after the very first treatment although three treatments may be required to provide the optimal result.

Intense Pulsed Light

Intense pulsed light (IPL) is a broad spectrum of light that efficiently targets brown age spots, small veins, capillaries, diffuse redness (rosacea) and uneven skin tone. IPL is designed to achieve visible improvement in the skin with no downtime and minimal discomfort. A series of three is usually required, performed at three to four weekly intervals.

Combination Therapy

Combination therapy is the use of multiple treatment modalities to help achieve your goals. For example, combining the Titan™ with IPL will provide you with a firm taut skin and a complexion free of open pores and pigmentation. There are many combinations that can be used to ensure that your needs are adequately met.

Laser Genesis

Laser Genesis uses laser energy to safely and effectively treat scars and diffuse and excessive redness, as well as providing a dramatic improvement in uneven skin texture, large pores and fine lines. A course of six treatments is recommended with subtle yet consistent results achieved after each treatment.

Wrinkle Treatments & Lip Enhancement

Infinity incorporates the most recent advancements in product choice and injection techniques to provide flawless facial contours, eliminate wrinkles and add volume and definition to lips.

Excessive sweating (hyperhidrosis) is commonly undiagnosed and can also be effectively treated with a series of injections, allowing you to wear a full range of clothes and lead a more active lifestyle.

Sclerotherapy

Sclerotherapy is the injection of a special solution into unwanted leg and face veins. Using a micro-injection technique, the solution irritates the vessels causing adhesion of the lining and prevents regular blood flow. Over the following weeks the vessels shrink and gradually fade from view. Generally one to two treatments are required.

Microdermabrasion

Microdermabrasion is a process which removes dead skin cells from the epidermis (the outermost layer of the skin), cleaning out blocked pores and enhancing skin tone. The process increases sluggish skin cell turnover and enhances cosmeceutical uptake, producing fresh, glowing skin.

Microdermabrasion is best utilised as a course of treatments, usually spaced one month apart, or in conjunction with the light based treatments IPL and Laser Genesis.

Epidermal Levelling

Epidermal Levelling uses a specially designed blade to remove dead skin cells and fine facial hair. This process stimulates the production of collagen and is ideal preparation for the absorption of cosmeceuticals. This treatment with its exfoliating effect provides lustrous, light reflecting skin. Monthly treatments are recommended.

Medical Strength Facial Peels

Chemical peels provide skin rejuvenation for fine lines, wrinkles and pigmentation problems and alleviate many common skin disorders such as acne and rosacea. Initially a series of three peels are recommended followed by periodic maintenance peels.

Cosmeceutical Lines

Infinity has the most advanced and effective skin care ranges on the market. Skin care regimes are vital and highly recommended in conjunction with all laser and light-based services for sustained long-term improvement in skin quality and rejuvenation. Personalised and structured regimes are tailored to each client. The recent addition of Jane Iredale mineral makeup to our skin care range allows a fully integrated regime of superior products to enhance any surgical, laser or light-based treatments.

Cosmedix

CosMedix is a chirally-corrected medical skincare line that consists of innovative products designed to provide unparalleled results for a complete range of skin conditions. CosMedix uses high concentrations of active ingredients that communicate with the skin and work with its natural ability to repair itself. The combination of chiral-correction and concentration of ingredients makes CosMedix one of the premier skin care lines in the world.

Results Without Irritation

From chemically correct peels to procedure specific skin care, Results Rx speaks the language of the skin - and that language begins with chirality. This precise science enables these products to select only the molecules most recognizable by the receptor sites on the skin's cells. Through this direct communication, the purest, most potent ingredients are delivered to the skin without inflammation or irritation.

While chiral correction may be a complex term, it is well understood by your skin. Turn to the Results Rx system to further enhance your skin care and treatment program.
